DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 28-42 and 71-81 drawn to a 28 an ultrasonic imaging system and method for producing a three dimensional image of a tissue or fluid inside a body, classified in class 600, subclass 437.
- II. Claims 43-58, 82-84, 86 and 88 drawn to an ultrasonic imaging system and method for producing a three dimensional image of a tissue or fluid inside a body, comprising: a beamformer, classified in class 600, subclass 447.
- III. Claims 89-93, 95-102, drawn to a method of producing a three-dimensional ultrasonic image of a tissue or fluid in the body, comprising: ultrasonic echoes containing both fundamental and harmonic frequency components, classified in class 600, subclass 443.
- IV. Claims 103-107, drawn to a method and an ultrasound apparatus adapted for generating a three dimensional reconstruction of a subject during an imaging session, said subject being free of added ultrasound contrast agent throughout the entire imaging session, containing Doppler information signals, classified in class 600, subclass 453.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, II III and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions are not capable of use together and they have different design modes of operation, and effects. Form example: Group I is a ultrasonic imaging system and method for producing a three dimensional image of a tissue or fluid inside a body, Group II is an ultrasonic imaging system and method for producing a three dimensional image of a tissue or fluid inside a body, comprising: a beamformer, Group III is a method of producing a three-dimensional ultrasonic image of a tissue or fluid in the body, comprising: ultrasonic echoes containing both fundamental and harmonic frequency components, and Group IV is a method and an ultrasound apparatus adapted for generating a three dimensional reconstruction of a subject during an imaging session, said subject being free of added ultrasound contrast agent throughout the entire imaging session, containing Doppler information signals.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;

- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
